PREFACE

AS the title indicates this volume contains a series of genealogies of native Long Island families compiled principally from records left by Benjamin F. Thompson, historian of Long Island who died March 21, 1849.

During the latter part of his life, Thompson devoted considerable time to genealogical research, confining his activities to Long Island and he soon acquired a reputation in this line of endeavor second only to his historical achievements.

Thompson's original material has been amplified to a considerable degree where it was found possible or advisable to do so. Much of the biographical and descriptive matter comes from the pen of the compiler. Generally speaking, the genealogies have not been extended beyond the "forties" of the past century to which point the historian carried them. One generally knows the names and particulars of one's grandparents and the present day generations of the families hereinafter mentioned, can if they choose, call to mind the members of their respective families who were born, married or died since the period mentioned above.

Thompson's genealogical manuscripts were carefully tied in bundles and at the historian's death were found in the same receptacle that contained the manuscript of the third edition of his well known "History of Long Island" lately published. From these facts it is evident that he intended to publish them separately or as an appendix to his History. Their length and importance precluded the latter possibility and they are now given to the reader as a separate and distinct work.

DICKERSON

This family is particularly noted for the eminent positions in different walks of life which several of its members have held. True, these men did not reside on Long Island, but they all belonged to the same family, and in the case of one, Hon. Mahlon Dickerson of New Jersey, there arose an attachment for the land of his ancestors that was manifest on many occasions.

The family is supposed to have come from the Isle of Ely, Cambridgeshire, England. It is known that Philemon and Nathaniel Dickerson were brothers, and it is generally conceded that John* and Thomas† were also, thus making a family of four brothers who came to the new world. It is supposed that all four emigrated together or within a few years of each other, but we have definite information on this point in the case of only one, PHILEMON DICKERSON who shipped as a passenger on board the "Mary Anne" of Yarmouth, on May 10, 1637. He is named in this connection, as a servant (employee) of Benjamin Cooper, husbandman, aged 50, of Brampton in Suffolk County, England, or of Cooper's sister aged 48. He made known his desire to settle at Salem, Mass., and we find first trace of him there in 1639, pursuing his trade of a tanner. He was made freeman of Salem in 1641, and there married Mary Paine, eldest d. of Thomas Paine of Salem, who was born Oct. 12, 1611, and died March 1, 1697, aged 86.

About 1649 he removed with his family to Southold, Long Island, where he spent the remainder of his days and where his descendants are still found. He was a prominent man in the settlement and seems to have been looked up to, somewhat, by the other settlers, perhaps on account of force of character or some other attainment. His home lot, consisting of about four acres, was at the extreme southeastern end of the settlement, fronting on Town Street, and bounded south by the head of Jockey Creek. The land is, or was, recently owned by the Terry family and the pioneer's dwelling stood a few rods east of an old barn which belonged to Hiram Terry, some thirty-five years ago. As late as 1882, the remains of Philemon's tan vats could be plainly discerned in a hollow just east of this barn. In common with others, he owned many other tracts of land in different parts of the town.

Philemon Dickerson died at Southold, May 27, 1672, aged about 74. His will bears date of June 20, 1665, and was proved

3. Mahlon Walter,<sup>8</sup> b. April 24, 1846, and d. June 25, 1847.

All three children dying within 13 days leads to the belief that they were victims of some malignant disease. Walter Dickerson kept a store at Woodville Landing, now Shoreham, which he later sold to his brother, William Benjamin Dickerson,<sup>7</sup> and removed to Setauket, where he erected a home on the west side of the mill pond where he died.

In his will, dated May 27, 1725, he appoints his brother John<sup>3</sup> and Ensign Benjamin Reeve as executors, who however, refused to act, and the will was not probated until April 10, 1739, when Daniel,<sup>4</sup> his second son, was appointed administrator, having probably then become of age. His widow, Abigail, on March 17, 1737, md. Charles Wager, formerly of Boston, Mass., two of whose children married two of his step-children. All of Thomas Dickerson's children with the exception of Joseph<sup>4</sup> and Abigail,<sup>4</sup> removed to Morris County, N. J., in 1745, where several of their descendants achieved considerable prominence, as related hereafter.

5. Mehitable.<sup>5</sup>

† IV. JOSEPH,<sup>4</sup> d. April 29, 1740, at Southold.

V. ABIGAIL,<sup>4</sup> md. Henry Wells, April 8, 1736, who was b. in 1714, and d. in 1793. She d. March 16, 1786. Abigail did not move to New Jersey with her brothers and sisters but remained at Southold. There is also a tradition that she later went to Ver-

VI. ELIZABETH<sup>4</sup> md. Andrew Wager, Jan. 21, 1743.

VII. PETER,<sup>4</sup> the youngest child, was b. in 1725, after the death of his father. He md. first, Oct. 20, 1745, Ruth, d. of Joseph Coe, and sister of Benjamin and Thomas Coe, who moved to New Jersey from Queens County, Long Island, about the same time as Peter did. She d. Feb. 10, 1763, and her husband md., second, Nov. 7, 1763, Sarah Armstrong, widow of John O'Hara. Peter Dickerson<sup>4</sup> was a member of the first Provincial Congress of New Jersey, in 1775, and subsequently commanded the second company of the Third Regiment of the New Jersey Brigade, raised in 1776, of which Col. Elias Dayton was commander. Capt. Dickerson, in 1776, accompanied his regiment on an expedition against Sir John Johnson and his Mohawk Indians, who were located about 18 miles above Schenectady, N. Y. Sir John and his dusky allies retired and after building a fort on the Mohawk River, known as Fort Dayton, the regiment returned. He died at Morristown, N. J., May 10, 1780, and is buried there. His valuable Revolutionary papers passed into the hands of his widow's executor, who carried them into the western part of New York State, where they were lost. Children of Peter Dickerson<sup>4</sup> by his first marriage were:

1. Mary,<sup>5</sup> b. March 31, 1746; md. David Case, Dec. 22, 1763, and d. in 1774.

2. Jonathan<sup>5</sup> was b. Sept. 20, 1747, and was named after President Jonathan Dickinson of Princeton College. On Oct. 12, 1768, md. his cousin, Mary (b. Sept., 1752), d. of Thomas Coe, who came from Queens County, Long Island, as mentioned before. He d. Nov. 7, 1805, aged 58, and is buried at Morristown, N. J. Children were:

a. Mahlon,<sup>6</sup> b. April 17, 1770, and d. Oct. 5, 1858. Mahlon Dickerson achieved national prominence as Governor of New Jersey, United States Senator and Secretary of the Navy. It is not within the province of this genealogy to give an extended biography of this most distinguished member of the Dickerson family, but it is our pleasure to briefly touch some of the lesser known aspects of his interesting and useful life. To those who seek a full account of his career, we recommend either Vol. 10 of the New York Genealogical and Biographical Record or Appleton's Dictionary of American Biography. The fairly numerous publications concerning New Jersey's famous men also render good accounts of his life and labors.

Mahlon Dickerson graduated at Princeton College, in the class of 1789, to which Silas Wood, first historian of Long Island, also belonged. A strong friendship existed between the two statesmen which was accentuated when both men became members of the same Congress in after years, Dickerson as Senator from New Jersey, and Wood as Congressman from the Long Island district of New York.

Mr. Dickerson had another close friend in Benjamin F. Thompson, historian of Long Island, and source of these genealogies. The friendship started through Thompson's efforts to familiarize himself with the genealogy of those members of the Dickerson family who had removed to New Jersey. Into this undertaking, Mr. Dickerson entered enthusiastically. Pride in his Puritan and Revolutionary ancestors was a characteristic of the man and the antiquities of his native land always claimed from him, interest and respect.

Mr. Dickerson made several visits to Long Island and never failed to stop at the historian's home at Hempstead, and spend a few days. Thompson, accompanied by his wife and daughter, returned the call at Mr. Dickerson's home in Suckasunny, N. J., and mention is made of this pleasant visit in Thompson's biography contained in the Enlarged Edition of his well-known History of Long Island. On his last visit to Southold, in the summer of 1851, Mr. Dickerson erected a dignified monument to the memory of his forebears who were among the early settlers of that historic town. The shaft can still be seen in the Presbyterian graveyard. Speaking of his ancestors, he once said: "In early times few men of fortune or distinction emigrated to this country—people came here generally to better their condition, of such I believe was my ancestor who first came to this country. I believe myself to be a descendant of a race of honest, industrious, psalm-singing deacons, with which pedigree I am content."

Mahlon Dickerson was admitted to the bar in 1793, and removed to Philadelphia in 1796, where he practised his profession for 13 years. He was appointed by Governor McKean, Adjutant General of Pennsylvania, and subsequently Recorder of the City of Philadelphia, which office he resigned in 1810 and returned to New Jersey, where he was elected Governor in 1815 and again in 1816. In 1817 he was elected United States Senator from New Jersey and thereupon resigned the Governorship. Mr. Dickerson held the position of Senator for sixteen years, or until 1833, and during this long incumbency he made an enviable name for himself as a statesman. In 1834, he was nominated by President Andrew Jackson and confirmed by the Senate as Minister to Russia, taking the place of James Buchanan, afterwards President, but was induced to decline this office and accept that of Secretary of the Navy, upon the duties of which he entered July 1, 1834. Failing health caused him to resign this position in 1838 and retire to private life. Although not again holding official position, he was a potent factor in the councils of the Democratic party for many years. He also took much pleasure in agricultural pursuits and conducting his extensive and valuable iron mines upon his estate at Suckasunny, Morris County, N. J. In May, 1846, he succeeded General James Tallmadge as President of the American Institute.

He lived for a considerable portion of his life at Suckasunny, N. J., where he was much interested in operating the above-mentioned iron mines which had formerly belonged to his father.

He died Oct. 5, 1858, aged 88. Mr. Dickerson never married and is buried at Suckasunny. A plain monument with the following inscription marks the spot:

"Mahlon Dickerson, son of Jonathan and Mary Dickerson; born April 17, 1770, died Oct. 5, 1858. His biography is written in legislative records. 'Mark the perfect man and behold the upright, for the end of that man is peace'."

b. Silas,<sup>6</sup> b. Oct. 3, 1771; d. Jan. 7, 1807, aged 35. Silas Dickerson was frequently a member of the New Jersey State Legislature, and in 1801 was chosen Speaker of the House of Assmby. He was accidentally killed January 7, 1807, at the age of 35 years, leaving a son who died prior to 1849.

He graduated at the University of Pennsylvania in 1808 and md. Sidney M., daughter of Col. John Stotesbury, of New York, a Revolutionary officer. He commenced the practice of law in Paterson, N. J., and was elected Governor of New Jersey in 1836 and 1837. In March, 1841, he was appointed judge of the United States Court for the District of New Jersey, which office he held as late as 1849. He left four children: John Henry,<sup>7</sup> Edward N.,<sup>7</sup> Philemon<sup>7</sup> and Mary.<sup>7</sup> John Henry Dickerson<sup>7</sup> md. and settled as a surveyor at St. Martinsville, La., and had three children, his youngest, a son named Philemon.<sup>8</sup> Governor Philemon Dickerson made his home at Paterson, N. PHILEMON DICKERSON<sup>3</sup> (Peter,<sup>2</sup> Philemon<sup>1</sup>) was b. at Southold, and md. Hannah, d. of Henry Case, of Southold, in 1709. He d. Sept. 14, 1718, and his widow md. Dr. Samuel Billard, Dec. 9, 1725, whose descendants lived in Southold for many years. Children:

2. John,<sup>4</sup> b. 1712; md. Martha Bonnell.

3. Peter<sup>4</sup> removed to Springfield, N. J., about 1735.

As the descendants of Philemon Dickerson<sup>3</sup> are enumerated with considerable detail in Vol. XXX, N. Y. Gen. and Biog. Record, the line is not repeated here. Furthermore, they all resided in New Jersey, and there is nothing regarding them of interest to a student of Long Island families.

The following line, descendants of NATHANIEL DICKERSON, brother of Philemon Dickerson,<sup>1</sup> is here given in outline because of the fact that one member of this branch married the noted preacher, Rev. Caleb Smith, a native of Long Island, and one who was intimately connected with the early history of Princeton College. Members of this branch of the Dickerson family did not live on Long Island. Many of them spelled their name "Dickinson."

Nathaniel Dickerson, brother of Philemon Dickerson<sup>1</sup>, located at Weathersfield, Conn., but removed to Hadley, Mass., in 1657. He was the first deacon of the church there and d., aged 70, in 1670. Children:

I. SAMUEL,<sup>2</sup> b. 1638.

II. OBEDIAH,<sup>2</sup> b. 1641.

IV. NEHEMIAH,<sup>2</sup> born 1644. Children were: 1. Nehemiah,<sup>3</sup> b. 1672; 2. William,<sup>3</sup> b. 1675; 3-4. Mary<sup>3</sup> and John,<sup>3</sup> twins, b. 1678, John<sup>3</sup> d. young, and Mary<sup>3</sup> md. Samuel Gaylord; 5. Sarah,<sup>3</sup> b. 1680, md. Samuel Mighile; 6. Samuel,<sup>3</sup> b. 1682; 7. Hannah,<sup>3</sup> b. 1684, md. Benjamin Church; 8. Nathaniel,<sup>3</sup> b. 1689, and lived in Sunderland, Mass.; 9. Israel,<sup>3</sup> b. 1691; 10. Ebenezer,<sup>3</sup> b. 1696; 11. Rebecca,<sup>3</sup> b. 1699, md. Jonathan Smith.

V. HEZEKIAH,<sup>2</sup> b. 1646; lived in Hadley, Springfield and Hatfield, Mass., successively. He md. Abigail —, and was the father of Rev. Jonathan Dickinson,<sup>3</sup> first President of the College of New Jersey, afterwards called Princeton College. He was b. April 22, 1688, graduated at Yale College, 1706, and was pastor of the Presbyterian Church at Elizabethtown, N. J., for nearly forty years. He assumed the office of first president of Princeton College, on Oct. 22, 1746, but died just a year later on Oct. 7, 1747, aged 59. His wife, Joanna, died April 20, 1745, aged 63. His successor as president of the college was Rev. Aaron Burr, father of Col. Aaron Burr, the statesman.

Rev. Jonathan Dickinson's<sup>3</sup> second daughter Martha,<sup>4</sup> md. Rev. Caleb Smith, a very able preacher and native of Long Island. He was b. 1724, at St. George's Manor, Mastic, L. I., the son of Major William Henry Smith, who was son of Colonel William Smith, patentee of St. George's Manor and founder of the "Tangier" Smith family, so-called from the fact that Col. Smith had been governor of the British colony of Tangier, Africa, before coming to America. He was also an intimate friend of the second president of Princeton, Rev. Aaron Burr, and preached the funeral sermon over the body of his friend. The sermon was entitled "Diligence in the Work of God, and Activity During Life." It was published at New York in 1758, and is a small duodecimo volume—a very rare item and much sought after by collectors. Rev. Caleb Smith also edited a sermon preached by Rev. Aaron Burr at the funeral of Governor Jonathan Belcher, of New Jersey, who died August 31, 1757. This was also published and is fully as rare as the before-mentioned work.

Rev. Caleb Smith was pastor of the Presbyterian Church at Newark Mountains, N. J., (now Orange), where he died Oct. 22, 1762. His children by this marriage were Nancy,<sup>5</sup> Elizabeth<sup>5</sup> and Jane.<sup>6</sup> Rev. Mr. Smith had a son Apollos<sup>5</sup> by his second wife Rebecca Foot. Mary,<sup>4</sup> another daughter of President Dickinson, married John Cooper; and another, Abigail,<sup>4</sup> married Jonathan Sergeant, of Princeton, N. J., whose son, Jonathan D. Sergeant,<sup>5</sup> was a distinguished lawyer of Philadelphia, Pa., and died in 1793. His son, John Sergeant,<sup>6</sup> was a Member of Congress from that city.

SAMUEL DICKERSON, of Maryland, was probably a descendant of some one of the early generations of the Dickerson family. Mention of his descendants is here made as they held prominent positions in the walk of life; and also to prevent confusion, as there were two Philemon Dickersons in this line who must not be confounded with those bearing the same name who were descendants of Philemon Dickerson,<sup>1</sup> of Southold, L. I. The fact that "Philemon" was a favorite name with this family, is evidence that they were related to the other branches. Samuel Dickerson was a wealthy man and his son, General Philemon Dickerson of the Revolutionary Army, commanded the New Jersey Militia at the battle of Monmouth. General Dickerson was afterwards a member of Congress from New Jersey, and died at Trenton, N. J., Feb. 4, 1809, aged 68.

John Dickinson, another son of Samuel; an eminent statesman and political writer, was the author of the celebrated "Farmer's Letters," which produced a wonderful effect in establishing American liberty. He was born in 1732, and died Feb. 15, 1808, aged 75.

Philemon Dickerson, president of the Trenton Banking Co. during the "forties" of the past century, was a grandson of General Philemon Dickerson above mentioned.

A Thomas Dickerson was of Rowley, Mass., in 1643, and died in 1662, leaving a son, James and four daughters. He may be the Thomas who is supposed to be a brother of Nathaniel<sup>1</sup> and Philemon<sup>1</sup> as mentioned on page 11.

NATHAN DICKERSON, who was b. at Southold, L. I., Dec. 29, 1790, was probably a descendant of Thomas Dickerson<sup>2</sup> (Philemon<sup>1</sup>), of whose line there is no record. He was a minister of the Gospel. His son Halsey was md. three times; first to Parnissa Leek; second to Elizabeth Sawyer, and third to Polly Overton, on Oct. 15, 1848. By his first wife he had issue: Charles Wesley, Maria, George Whitfield, Mary Sophia, Emma, Martha, Elizabeth, Sarah, John Nelson, William Fletcher and Francis Asbury.

Samuel Dickerson, perhaps also a descendant of Thomas,<sup>2</sup> md. Julia Wells of Southold, Feb. 11, 1792.

MITCHILL

This family is native to that part of old Queens County now Nassau County and several of its members have achieved prominence in the public eye, chiefly Dr. Samuel L. Mitchill, scientist, statesman, physician and author. It should not be confused with the Michell family which appeared at Bridgehampton, Suffolk County about 1650.

Robert Mitchill, a descendant of Sir Humphrey Mitchill of Old Windsor, Berkshire, England; md. first Mary Lockerson and second Hester Smith by whom he had Robert<sup>1</sup> first of the name in America, who was born in 1670 and came to New York about 1694. He is supposed to have removed to the town of North Hempstead about 1700 but his name does not appear in the town records until April 7, 1713 when he was chosen "surveyor of highways" and "fence viewer" for Madnan's* Neck. His homestead was at Cow Neck† and like most of the settlers at that time, he was a farmer. In the town records, under date of April 2, 1717 we read of "ye spring yt hath a hollow tub in it yt is ye spring yt Robert Mitchill fetcheth water at." His first wife was the widow Phebe Thorne, maiden name Denton; and the second, Hannah Van Wyck,‡ widow of Thomas Cornell. He often held the office of surveyor of highways and fence viewer, and in 1740 he was chosen one of the town trustees. His ear mark for cattle was "a Swallow fork in the off Ear and a hole in the Near Ear and a half penny the fore Side the same." Robert Mitchill<sup>1</sup> died in 1743 aged 83. He had eleven children, three by his first wife and eight by the second.

I. URIAH<sup>2</sup> md. Susan Hubbs, Feb. 27, 1735. He was actively engaged in the Revolutionary War. After the battle of Long Island, fought during the last week in August 1776, he removed to Newburgh, N. Y., with many other refugees (see F. G. Mather's L. I. Refugees p. 468). There he served in the 4th Dutchess Regiment and was Quartermaster of General McDougall's Brigade, 1777-1778, later serving as Post Quartermaster at Newburgh until July 1782. After peace was declared he

She probably survived her husband and md. again, for she is spoken of as Elizabeth Lawrence, in the settlement of her brother Thomas Jones<sup>2</sup> estate. Jacamiah Mitchill is first spoken of in the Hempstead Town Records, in 1736 when he owned land on the north side of the "Great Plains"; and again in 1745 when he owned land in the same locality. Children were:

1. Sarah<sup>3</sup> md. Joseph Bowne.

Besides these military services he was Assemblyman from 1798-1808; Claim Agent for the State of N. Y.; Alderman of N. Y. City and Clerk of the N. Y. State Supreme Court as late as 1827. The house which Dr. Mitchill obtained from his uncle, is still standing in the village of Manhasset and is a very fine and substantial example of colonial architecture. He was frequently overseer of roads and highways and a prominent man in the town. On the first Tuesday in April 1803 the town of North Hempstead granted to him the right to erect a mill on the creek running into Manhasset Bay, near his home.

“At the above Said Townmeeting it was Unanimously Voted that Dr. Charles Mitchill Shall have and is hereby given Liberty to Erect a building and Mill on the Stream from which the Saw Mill was Lately Taken and adjoining the Mill Dam, and bridge over which the publick Highway now runs off the head of Cow-neck to great neck in the Town of North Hempstead, the said Charles Mitchill his heirs and assigns to make and keep the Said Dam and Bridge Sufficient for a good publick Highway, and to grind and boulit for the Inhabitants of Said Town for the Accustomed Toll in Case he Erects a Gristmill on Said Stream.”

4. Singleton<sup>3</sup> b. May 9, 1774. The following account of Judge Singleton Mitchill by his friend Benj. F. Thompson is herewith given verbatim:

"Singleton Mitchill, 4th son of Robert and Mary Mitchill, was born on Cow Neck L. I., May 9th 1774 and at the age of 3 years went to live with his uncle Dr. Samuel Latham, where he continued to reside during the life of the latter whose death took place July 24, 1781 and by his will gave his nephew† his farm and mill at Plandome, on condition of his paying to the Doctor's brother Thomas Latham, the sum of $5000.

At the age of 15 years the subject of this notice lost his father July 12, 1789. At this time he was invited by his cousin Joseph Latham a merchant at Rahway N. J., to reside with him; and had been there but a few months when his neighbor John Town, post-master of that place, in the spring of 1790 made him his deputy which office he continued to fill till he left there in the autumn of 1792. He then returned to Long Island and took charge of his mill property till he came of lawful age in May 1795; allowing his brothers Joseph, George, and Robert to share with him in the profits thereof, as if they had been joint owners thereof.

In 1796, young Mitchill purchased of Benj. Tredwell a farm of 60 acres at the head of the neck, together with a store and stock of groceries therein, which he carried on for nearly two years when he sold the same to Samuel Wooley at an advance of $1000 having made $1500 more by his business, being a gain of $2500, and returned to his farm at Plandome in Sept. 1798.

In the spring of 1799, being in the city of New York, he fell in with his friend Robert Sheffield in command of the ship 'Mars,' belonging to Lefferts and Carpenter, who invited him to accompany him to Liverpool, passage free, which he accepted and having engaged a part of the vessel, purchased for the purpose of exportation 100 bushels of rye flour and 500 bushels of rye in grain. But before it was put on board he sold his interest in the freighting of the vessel to Francis Thompson who also agreed to take the flour and grain off his hands at cost. Having pocketed the money, he returned to his labors at the mill.

In Nov. 1800 he accompanied a friend to Albany to attend a meeting of the Legislature convened for the choosing of electors for President and Vice President of the United States. While strolling along the docks of that city, he found a vessel about to leave for New York without a cargo and bargained with the captain to furnish him a freight within two days. He thereupon engaged a number of active boys to go out upon the roads west of Albany, meet wagons coming into the city with wheat and if not already sold, direct them to the vessel. In the course of the next day, 1500 bushels were received on board at 12/6 per bushel. That evening another vessel from Rahway was about to return without a cargo—Mitchill agreed to load him also with wheat, provided the captain would loan him the money to pay for it. This was agreed upon and in the course of a day or two more 1700 bushels were delivered on board at the same price. On arriving at New York he sold both cargoes at 3/6 per bushel advance, making a neat gain of about $1200 in 10 days.

In April 1800 he gave to his brothers George and Robert, $3000 each to induce them to leave the farm, and entered upon farming and milling on his own account. On the 12th day of May 1803 he married Maria, daughter of the Hon. John Schenck then State Senator. In the summer of 1805 he built a small sloop of 20 tons called the 'Early Ann' which he employed in his milling business. In 1806 he bought his brother Joseph also out of the concern for $3000 more and was the same year appointed a justice of the peace. In Feb. 1808 went into Suffolk County to purchase cattle by which he cleared $200. He was engaged more extensively in agriculture, horticulture etc., by which his farm was greatly improved. In 1811 was a delegate to the Congressional convention at Tammany Hall when Geo. Townsend of Queens County was nominated to represent the first district and was elected. In 1815 he was among the most efficient persons engaged in building the Dutch Reformed church at Manhasset. In 1820 he was elected Supervisor of his town, with particular reference to carrying on the controversy with the adjoining town of Hempstead relating to the common lands and marshes of that town, to a part of which the former town claimed to be entitled, on the ground that it was the common property of both when the original town was divided into two towns. The case was decided in favor of Hempstead in despite of counsel opposed to them, Robert Emmett, John Duer and Ambrose Spencer, and cost the town of North Hempstead, $6029.62½.

In June 1819 he was chosen a Vice President of an Agricultural Society founded in Queens County and the next year received for premiums, 6 ten dollar silver mugs, half a dozen teaspoons, besides other articles. In 1818 he became one of the Judges of the County Courts. In 1826 was a delegate to the State Convention at Utica, which resulted in the nomination and election of De Witt Clinton for Governor and Henry Huntington for Lieut. Governor of the State—1827 was elected President of the North Hempstead Bible Society. In 1834 was one of the vice presidents of the convention at Herkimer, when Wm. L. Marcy and John Tracy were nominated and subsequently elected Governor and Lieut. Governor. In 1835 was a delegate of the State Convention to the National Convention at Baltimore on the 20th May when Martin Van Buren and Richard M. Johnson were nominated for President and Vice President of the U. S., and were afterwards elected. He was first Judge of Queens County for several years. He was one of the commissioners for receiving subscriptions for, and distributing the stock of the Long Island Railroad—and was a trustee of the Jones fund, (for care of the poor) from its organization.

He lost his wife Sept. 19, 1830 aged 49 and on Dec. 13, 1831

he md. Sarah, widow of John C. Hewlett and daughter of Divine Hewlett."

We may add that his first wife Maria Schenck was born May 12, 1803 and his second wife Sarah Hewlett was born Feb. 22, 1788. He died Dec. 9, 1861. All of his children, 10 in number, were by his first wife, of whom hereafter.

5. Samuel Latham<sup>3</sup> b. Aug. 20, 1764, md. Catharine, widow of William Cock and daughter of Dr. Samuel Akerly in 1799 and d. without issue Sept. 7, 1831 aged 66.

Dr. Samuel L. Mitchill was a figure of national prominence in the realm of science and was by far the most illustrious member of this family. His versatility was remarkable and he is noted as statesman, scientist, physician, author and lawyer. Dr. Mitchill was called the Nestor of American Science and he richly deserved the appellation. Extended biographies can be found in the various biographical publications and there are several separate publications devoted to his life and memory. Therefore we will devote ourselves to some intimate details of his busy life and such matter as we believe has not been generally published.

In this connection we append herewith an article written by his friend Benj. F. Thompson and published in the Hempstead "Inquirer":

Some of the older inhabitants of Hempstead may remember the Rev. Leonard Cutting, rector of St. George's Church, who was settled here in Aug. 1766, and removed to the southward in 1784, the year subsequent to the close of the revolutionary war. Mr. Cutting was a man of extensive learning, a finished scholar, and had been professor of classical literature in Kings (now Columbia) College, N. Y. the faculty of which had been separated and the course of studies interrupted by the war. Mr. Cutting not only loved learning himself, but was strongly attached to those of his pupils, who were anxious to acquire it. While he taught a school here in his own house, he had among other pupils, who afterwards arose to distinction in various situations, Samuel L. Mitchill, a native of Cow Neck, L. I., and subsequently one of the most useful and scientific men in the United States. Mr. Cutting and young Mitchill soon became mutually attached to each other; the one from finding a capable and willing instructor, and the other in acquiring an ardent, industrious and docile pupil. Their intercourse became more than usually familiar, from the kindness of the one, and the obedience and studious habits of the other. Young Mitchill boarded with a farmer at some distance from the school, for in those difficult and troublesome times, while the enemy was in possession of the Island, it was necessary to be very careful and economical in the expenditures of a family—and this probably, is the reason why he was not allowed by the family in which he lived, a candle by which he could study at night—and he could only pursue his studies by the light of a fire.—Such a flickering, uncertain light injured his eyes, and caused that short-sightedness which accompanied him through life. His preceptor becoming acquainted with the situation of his pupil, and desirous of encouraging his application to books, invited him to rise early, come to his room, and study there, before the other pupils arrived. This invitation was accepted, and Mitchill generally arose before sunrise, prepared his own breakfast, walked a mile, and frequently arrived at the school before his preceptor was out of bed. This course was highly gratifying to Mr. Cutting, for instead of being displeased at such early calls, he stimulated his pupil to repeat them, and afforded him every facility in his power. A habit of industry and early rising was thus established, and so well confirmed that it never forsook him. The good old man when thus aroused from his slumbers, would cautiously approach the door and inquire, "Samuel, is that you?" and being answered in the affirmative, would open the door, and bestow encomiums upon his favorite pupil. By this means, the industrious scholar ingratiated himself into the good opinion of his worthy teacher, and became proficient and foremost in the studies pursued in the school. Here he acquired the first elements of Greek and Latin, and read the principal books, preparatory to a more extended collegiate course.

But the opportunity of a further prosecution of academic studies on a more extensive plan, under competent instructors, never occurred, and his proficiency in these learned languages, for which he was in after life remarkable, was the effect of subsequent private tuition, and long continued self application.

While employed in his classical studies at Hempstead, he also commenced the acquisition of the French language under Mr. John H. Hentz, a private teacher, who collected a small class in this village. At that time it was not much appreciated, but the pupil's mother seconded his wishes to acquire it. His knowledge of this language was likewise improved by study, and by his subsequent travels in France, which enabled him to speak and write it with facility and correctness. Thus, his academic education may be said to have commenced and terminated in Mr. Cutting's school, his studies there being brought to a close in his seventeenth year, after the decease of his uncle, Dr. Samuel Latham, in 1781, to whom he was mainly indebted for the expenses of the education he had thus far received. The celebrity which our subject afterwards acquired is too well known to be here recited.

Hempstead, Nov. 25th, 1845.

B. F. T.

From the North Hempstead Town Records, we quote verbatim the following interesting activities in which Dr. Mitchill was the prime mover:

"The manner by which Success Pond was furnished with yellow perch, originally there were no yellow perch in the waters of the Pond at Success in this town. In the year 1790, Samuel L. Mitchill then a resident of North Hempstead and shortly afterwards a member of Assembly for Queens County, in company with Uriah Mitchill then Sheriff of Queens, brought them from Ronkonkoma Pond in Suffolk County. Those gentlemen went in a wagon for the express purpose of transporting alive some of the yellow perch from Ronkonkoma to Success. They took about three dozen who had been wounded most superficially by the hook, and dismissed all of them but two into Success Pond, vigorous enough to swim away. This they were enabled to do by filling a large churn with the water of Ronkonkoma Pond and putting so few fish into it that there was no necessity of changing it on the road; and by driving steadily on a walk, the whole distance of forty miles, without stopping to refresh either man or horse.

From these individuals the multiplicity of yellow perch in Success Pond and the neighboring waters have proceeded. Dr. Mitchill in his Memoir on the Fishes of New York printed in the 1st Vol. of the Transactions of the Literary and Philosophical Society of N. Y., has described this fish under the name of 'Bodianus flavescens' believing it to be a species not before known to naturalists."

"The manner in which the light house at the extremity of Cow Neck* in the Town of North Hempstead came to be built.

As long ago as 1790, Samuel L. Mitchill was so strongly convinced that a light-house ought to be built on Sand's point, that he and Samuel Wood surveyed it by chain and compass that year. In 1805 during an excursion on board the "Active" Revenue Cutter while commanded by Capt. Caleb Brewster,† the expediency of such a light house became the subject of conversation, and on board of that vessel were the Memorials written by Dr. Mitchill which were circulated among coasters, pilots and navigators for subscription. All the petitions came forward to Congress during the winter of 1806 and that gentleman, then a Senator of the United States, brought in a bill for the erection and endowment of a light house on Cow Neck.‡ It passed into a law, Jan. 26.

Mason of New London and carried on with so much dispatch that the lantern was ready for the reception of oil before the end of Nov. 1809.

There was a grand civic festival at the place, at which the members of the most respectable families in the neighborhood attended; Samuel L. Mitchill as the founder, was honored with an invitation to meet his fellow citizens and was there on one of the happiest occasions that had occurred within the recollection of the numerous company that assembled."

"The manner by which the height of the Harbor Hill in North Hempstead* was ascertained.

On the morning of July 20th 1816, the height of the Harbor Hill was determined by the barometer, and found to be three hundred and nineteen feet above high water mark.

The way in which this operation came to be performed was this, Samuel L. Mitchill had in Dec. 1815, been one of the visitors of the Military Academy at West Point. He there received from Capt. Partridge the Professor of Engineering in the Academy, a list of heights ascertained by himself in New Hampshire, Vermont and New York. Dr. Mitchill engaged him to come during the ensuing summer and take the altitude of the Harbor Hill in Queens County. Capt. Partridge accordingly called on Dr. Mitchill in New York on the 18th of July, informing the Doctor that he had come from West Point prepared for the service. The proper directions were given to him and he with several cadets, viz: Delafield, Giles and Sickels, proceeded with the barometer on foot, to Hempstead Harbor † on the 19th. The same day Dr. Mitchill, Andrew Ellicott the famous geometrician and astronomer, Mr. Griffiths of New York and Mr. Haines of Philadelphia, followed them in a carriage and went to Judge Mitchill's ‡ at Plandome. The Judge and his son Warren accompanied them to the place of destination and the two parties met at the Harbor on the 20th between break of day and sunrise. The mercury in the barometer and thermometer was first observed at the level of high tide, near the base of the hill, and afterwards on the highest knoll of the summit with great nicety, and the conclusion was that the height was 319 feet, an elevation 28 feet higher than the

WICKHAM

John Wickham the common ancestor of the family in this country had six sons, of whose names, only JOSEPH<sup>1</sup> is known who was called Colonel and Esquire. He was first of the name on Long Island and emigrated from Killingworth Conn. to Southampton where he is recorded as having a grant of land at Sagg in Aug. 1686 provided he staid there seven years and worked at his trade of a tanner which condition he fulfilled. He md. first Sarah Satterly, living in 1698, and secondly Elizabeth, family name unknown, who d. June 4, 1725 aged 31. He died at Glastenbury Conn., July 7, 1734. His will dated April 20th 1734 and probated Aug. 17, 1734, mentions his children also land purchased of Col. Smith and Robins Island Neck now known as New Suffolk. Witnesses were Joshua Budd and John Holloway. His Children were Joseph,<sup>2</sup> William,<sup>2</sup> Benjamin,<sup>2</sup> Samuel,<sup>2</sup> Jonathan,<sup>2</sup> Elizabeth,<sup>2</sup> and Abigail<sup>2</sup> who md. Jonathan Stader and had Elizabeth<sup>3</sup> who md. John Conkling in 1740.

There was a Capt. Thomas Wickham who resided at Easthampton, concerning whose ancestry there is some doubt. That he was a son of either William,<sup>2</sup> Benjamin,<sup>2</sup> Samuel<sup>2</sup> or Jonathan<sup>2</sup> seems certain, but exactly which one it is impossible to state. He has been occasionally confused with Thomas<sup>3</sup> son of Joseph,<sup>2</sup> who was a physician and moved to Orange Co. N. Y.; but they were entirely separate individuals. Capt. Wickham was a seafaring man and a person of some importance in revolutionary times. He was a refugee from Easthampton to Stonington after the Battle of Long Island and was also, together with Thomas Dering and John Foster, an auditor of the claims of all the refugees. Capt. Wickham was a member of the 1st 2nd and 3rd Provincial Congresses and of the New York State Assembly in 1791. He was Captain of a Privateer sloop of eight guns with which he was successful in taking several enemy vessels. With Capt. John Grinnell and Major John Davis he made an unsuccessful attack upon the British at Sag Harbor, but managed to bring his boats off safely after his two associates had been captured. It is stated in Mather's "Refugees from L. I. to Conn." that he had a daughter Sarah who md. Judge John P. Osborn of Noyack—also that no descendants of his are now found in Easthampton, where it is supposed he died.

Elizabeth<sup>2</sup> married David Gardiner of Southold, a great grandson of Lion Gardiner, first proprietor of Gardiner's Island.

From his father David Gardiner also of Southold, he inherited Pesapunck Neck in that Town and lived there. He was born in 1705, married in 1725 according to the Gardiner genealogy and died March 2, 1748. His wife Elizabeth d. Feb. 11, 1769 aged 57 years according to her tombstone. This would make her 13 years old at the time of her marriage which is possible but not probable, perhaps the age on her tombstone is wrong. Children:

1. John<sup>3</sup> b. 1727, d. Oct. 19, 1795.
2. Elizabeth<sup>3</sup> md. an Osman.
3. David.<sup>3</sup>

7. Joseph<sup>3</sup> md. Mary Burts of Southold.
8. Lion<sup>3</sup> b. about 1740, d. about 1810, was a blacksmith of Southold. He stood over six feet high and stories are told of his marvelous strength. During 1773-74 he lived at Rocky Point.
9. Crispus.<sup>3</sup>
10. Gains.<sup>3</sup>
11. Juliana<sup>3</sup> md. Samuel Jennings of Southampton, Nov. 6, 1766.

Joseph<sup>2</sup> was b. June 4, 1701, lived at Southold and md. Abigail Parker d. of John Parker a Welshman, on May 29, 1723. She was b. Feb. 28, 1703 and before her marriage lived with her father at Southampton who was a Doctor and fuller. John Parker d. Feb. 9, 1727 and is buried at Mattituck, Town of Southold, therefore it is supposed that he died at the house of his daughter Abigail. Another daughter Mary md. William Albertson.

He is chiefly remarkable for being one of the three individuals in Suffolk County whose estates were confiscated by the government on account of their loyalty to the British cause during the Revolution. The others were Dr. George Muirson and Richard Floyd. He was a prominent man in the town and was Supervisor from 1767 to 1774. He was the owner of Robin's Island in Peconic Bay which had been in the family for two generations previous, being owned by Joseph<sup>1</sup> who left it to his son Joseph<sup>2</sup> who in turn bequeathed it to the subject of this notice. It was part of his confiscated estate above mentioned and was sold by the commissioners of forfeiture in 1784 to Col. Benjamin Tallmadge and Capt. Caleb Brewster for £1250.

Phebe Moore Wickham is considered by authorities to have been among the first persons to start a Sunday School in America which she did at her husband's house at Mattituck in 1811. She was a very estimable and religious woman. The house in which this Sunday School was held, was built in 1790 by Joseph Parker Wickham<sup>4</sup> and was his home until he died in 1806 and afterwards housed his widow. In 1822 the dwelling was purchased by James Wickham Reeve<sup>5</sup> son of James and Parnel Wickham Reeve<sup>4</sup> who occupied it until his death. The house, always pointed out to sightseers as the James Wickham Reeve house, stood until Jan. 1917 when it was torn down to make room for a modern dwelling. It was located on Main St. and formed part of what is now known as the Archer farm.

He returned to this country however, without embracing the military profession and settled at Williamsburg Va., where in 1785 he began the practice of law in which he was destined to excel. Wickham removed to Richmond Va. in 1790 and in a short time became one of the foremost lawyers in that city, if not in the entire state. Among his most important cases was the defense of Aaron Burr accused of treason against the Government, in the trial of whom he was associate counsel. This memorable event began May 22, 1807 and lasted with some interruptions, for six months. Due to the ability of his counsel, Burr was acquitted and the presiding justice, commenting on the case, remarked:

"The subject has been argued in a manner worthy of its importance. A degree of eloquence seldom displayed on any occasion has embellished solidarity of argument and depth of research." He continued in the practise of the law until his death and amassed a considerable fortune. A man of fine address and courtly manners, it was said of him by the poet Moore that "he was the only gentleman he had found in America, and would have graced any court in Europe." John Wickham was a close friend of that eccentric but able statesman, John Randolph of Roanoke who made the following bequest to Wickham in his will of Jan. 1, 1832: "To John Wickham Esq., my best friend, without making any professions of friendship for me, and the best and wisest man I ever knew, except Mr. Macon, I bequeath my mare Flora and my stallion Gascoigne, together with two old fashioned silver cups, and two tankards, unengraved; and I desire that he will have his arms engraved upon them, and at the bottom these words: 'From John Randolph of Roanoke, to John Wickham Esq., a token of the respect and gratitude which he never ceased to feel for his unparelled kindness, courtesy and services'."

John Wickham's grandson Williams Carter Wickham<sup>6</sup> was a distinguished military officer in the Confederate Army and when peace was declared, devoted his best efforts towards the reconstruction of his native state. ## RAYNOR

This genealogy relates to the descendants of EDWARD RAYNOR who was one of the original settlers of Hempstead in 1644. Another family descends from Thurston Raynor who was early at Southampton and whose descendants stuck pretty closely to the east end. Both Edward and Thurston were at Watertown Mass. before coming to Long Island. It is possible that they were related and one authority states that Edward was a nephew of Thurston.

The Edward Raynor family is by far the largest and most important. The members have generally lived in Nassau and the western part of Suffolk County. Up to about the middle of the past century, the thriving village of Freeport in Nassau County was known as Raynortown, from the large number of the family residing there. It is said that Edward Raynor founded the settlement in 1659.

Edward Raynor was a large landowner and a prominent man in the town. Samuel Raynor his eldest son was executor of his father's estate.

The Raynors are closely related to the Carman family with whom they have frequently intermarried.

EDWARD RAYNOR<sup>1</sup> was b. at Ipswich, England in 1624 and emigrated to Watertown Mass., from whence he removed to Hempstead in 1644, when that settlement was founded. He d. in Dec. 1685 or Jan. 1686. His will was admitted to probate on Jan. 18, 1686 and his son Samuel<sup>2</sup> is named as executor. Children were Samuel<sup>2</sup> eldest son, Josiah<sup>2</sup> and probably several daughters.

Raynor Rock Smith<sup>6</sup> was born Feb. 27, 1785 and his name will go down to posterity as the leader of the small band of rescuers who saved eight lives from the wreck of the bark "Mexico" which was cast up on the beach, south of Hempstead, Jan. 2, 1837. Of a total complement of 115 souls on board the ill-fated vessel, only the above mentioned eight were saved through the heroism of Capt. Smith. A large silver cup, with an appropriate inscription was presented to the Captain by a committee of appreciative gentlemen from New York. Raynor Rock Smith lived at Raynortown, now Freeport.

An Amos Raynor supposed to have been Amos,<sup>6</sup> was among those Long Islanders converted to Mormonism during the period of 1830-1845. He, together with many others from the town of Hempstead, left their native isle and journeyed to Nauvoo Ill., and finally to Utah. The cause of this conversion and migration was the energetic preaching of Selah Lane, one of the earliest Mormon proselyters and teachers. Lane lived at Greenwich Point, Hempstead, and conducted well attended services at his house which came to be known as "the Temple" and which gave the sect their idea of the great temples or tabernacles erected at Nauvoo and Salt Lake City, so it is said. During the "thirties" of the past century, many Hempstead people left at Lane's bidding and journeyed west with him. Tradition states that fully 1000 individuals from Long Island and adjacent territory were converted to the faith of Mormon through the efforts of Selah Lane.

Rev. Menzies Rayner was an eminent divine who during his lifetime wrote and published many religious books, some of which enjoyed a very extensive sale. Thompson in his "History of Long Island" speaking of them says: "All bear intrinsic evidence of sincerity, moderation, intelligence and industry."

His greatest work was done among the Universalists and he is considered to have been one of the most important preachers of that faith. Before joining this society he had been allied with the Methodists and Episcopalians successively. From a perusal of his sermons, many of which were published, we see that he was master of a direct and effective style of composition and no doubt of delivery. He was never at a loss to make his meaning clear to his listeners and have them feel the emotions stirring his own breast. At a period when some pastors felt that an involved style spelled excessive knowledge, his method of preaching and conducting services was no doubt appreciated and has evidently contributed to his fame. The following sketch of his life and work was written by Mr. Rayner himself and forwarded, by request, to Thompson for use in his "History of Long Island." There the reader will find a condensed transcript of it, but here it is given in its entirety for the first time. In sending the account Mr. Rayner says:

"I send you, after so long delay, the account concerning myself which you desired. You can make such use of it as you choose—if it is not too late. It will be seen, I believe, that I have not been entirely idle, and if in any instance or in any way, I have contributed to the promotion of truth and virtue among my fellow beings, it is what I have sincerely and constantly desired."

REV. MENZIES RAYNER'S ACCOUNT OF HIS LIFE

Rev. Menzies Rayner, Son of Benjamin and Mary Rayner, was born at Hempstead-South, Long Island, Nov. 23, 1770. He obtained his education, principally under the direction of private Instructors and at different periods. When very young he became a member of the Methodist Society, and at the age of nearly 21 years, he was admitted as a Preacher in the travelling connection of that denomination, by the Conference then holding its session in the city of New York. Two years after this he was ordained in said Methodist connection, in the Town of Lynn, Mass—by Francis Asbury, Bishop—so called—of the Methodist Episcopal Church in the United States. After this he continued a travelling Preacher in said denomination, nearly three years, when receiving an invitation to settle in the Protestant Episcopal Church in Elisabeth Town, New Jersey, he accepted the same, and was, accordingly ordained as Minister of said Church (first Deacon, and subsequently Priest) by the Right Reverend Bishop Provost, of New York. He continued Pastor of that Church about six years, when receiving a call from the Episcopal Church in Hartford, Conn—he removed thither, and remained Rector of that Church about ten years. (During his residence there he preached occasionally at Warehouse Point, in East Windsor, and also in Glastenbury, and formed an Episcopal Society in each of those places.) He then, in compliance with an invitation, removed to the town of Huntington, Conn., where he became Rector of the two Parishes of Huntington, and New Stratford, (since named Monroe.) Here he remained sixteen years when having after careful inquiry and examination, embraced the doctrine of Universal Salvation—he received a call to become Pastor of the Universalist Church and Society in Hartford, Conn.—(then vacant by the removal of the Rev. Mr. Bisbee) to which place he removed Nov. 1st, 1828—just sixteen years from the time he before left it. He continued Pastor of the U. Society in Hartford about four years, when, at the solicitation of the U. Society in Portland, Maine (left vacant by the death of the Rev. Mr. Bisbee) he removed to that town, (now city) where he remained about four years,—with the exception of four or five months of the latter part of that time, which he spent at the South, in Virginia and North Carolina—preaching almost daily in different sections in those States. Soon after his return, he was invited to visit Troy, N. Y., where, not long afterwards, he removed, in which place, and at Lansingburgh—three miles above—he remained about four years more—preaching also, part of the time at Schenectady, Fort Ann, and Hartford, N. Y.

In the latter part of August 1840 he removed to the city of New York—where he had two sons residing. Here he ministered about a year as Pastor pro-tem, to the Universalist Society in Bleeker Street, which had recently been left vacant by the removal of Rev. Mr. Le Fevre, who is now Pastor of the U. Society in Hudson. His residence is still in New York, where he officiates alternately to the fifth Universalist Society in this city, and to the U. Society in Newark, New Jersey, the Rev. Mr. Hallock supplying said Societies in like manner.

Rev. Mr. Raynor was married at Enfield, Ct. July 5th, 1795, to Rebecca Bontecou, a daughter of Dr. Daniel Bontecou, of New Haven; by whom (and who is still living) he has had twelve children—six sons and six daughters—nine of them viz. four sons and five daughters are living—their names are the following, Miriam Powell, Caroline Starr, Daniel Bontecou, (deceased) Benjamin Lester, William Charles, (deceased) Daniel Olcott, Rebecca Bontecou, Menzies, Mary Martha, Jane Elizabeth Barry, William Charles, and Cornelia Shelton, (deceased).

His publications—all upon the subject of Theology,—have been considerably numerous—though none of them are very large. While situated in the Episcopal Church in Huntington, Ct., he published, in the year 1818, a small duodecimo volume, of 210 pages, entitled “A Catechism of the Bible,” which has been very generally approved, and considerably used as a Sunday school book. Soon after this—during a season of great religious excitement, he published a small 18mo work, entitled “A Dissertation upon Extraordinary awakenings, or Religious Stirs,” etc., etc.—the first edition of which 1500 copies, was sold within a few weeks, and another edition of 3000 copies was printed and published at Hudson, N. Y. During his ministry at Huntington he also wrote and published several Pamphlets—Reviews—Sermons, etc. among which was “A Review of a sermon on Regeneration by Rev. Mr. Taylor, of New Haven;” and also a Review of a sermon by Dr. Tyler—then of Southbury Ct, on the Perseverance of the Saints—(highly Calvinistic). This Review was replied to by Dr. Tyler, and which Mr. Rayner followed by another review, in a pamphlet of 60 pages, which closed the controversy. He also published, while in Huntington, a pamphlet of between 30 and 40 pages entitled “The Force of Prejudice,” etc.

During his residence in Hartford, as a Universalist Minister, he edited and published a weekly Paper, called “The Religious Inquirer”—the Rev. Mr. Paige, of Springfield, Mass. being assistant Editor, a part of the time. While in Portland he edited assisted by Rev. Mr. Brimblecom, a weekly Paper called “The Christian Pilot.” While resident Minister of the Universalist Society in Portland, he delivered several courses of Lectures upon different subjects, among which were nine Lectures on the Parable of the “Rich Man and Lazarus,” which soon after were published in a volume, by Marsh, Capon and Lyon, Boston. Another course was on “Revivals of Religion”—Protracted meetings, anxious-seats, etc., with their accompaniments and results—with a description of a true revival of Religion. These lectures were six in number, and which were published, first in the “Christian Pilot,” and then in a small 18mo volume, and extensively circulated. While in Portland he also published a Review of a Missionary Sermon by Dr. Tyler—then Minister of a Congregational Society in the city. Here also he commenced a work entitled

"The Universalist Manual or Book of Prayers and other Religious Exercises" etc., which he completed while residing in Troy and Lansingburgh, comprising 286 pages and which was Stereotyped in New York, and several editions published, by P. Price, No. 130, Fulton Street.

HOME OF COLONEL ISAAC SATTERLY; AND BIRTHPLACE OF GENERAL JOHN R. SATTERLY

Seaboard, L., I.

SATTERLY

Among the original proprietors of Brookhaven in 1656 was WILLIAM SATTERLY<sup>1</sup> who with John Moger and Samuel Dayton, was drowned in Long Island Sound sometime between 1677 and 1680, in returning from Milford Conn., where they had been for the purpose of having their own and their neighbor's grain ground into flour as was the practise of that day before the erection of a mill in Brookhaven. Their hats were found washed ashore on the beach but their bodies were never recovered. William Satterly<sup>1</sup> was a man of considerable wealth and possessed silver household utensils which were exceedingly rare in those days.

He is supposed to be one of three brothers who came from Cheshire, England, the other two settling in Connecticut and the southern part of the United States respectively. This is the opinion held by the older generations of the family on Long Island and some in Connecticut and is so stated in an account of the family written by Isaac S. Satterly<sup>6</sup> son of Col. Isaac,<sup>5</sup> about 1830. On the other hand Augustus F. Satterlee of the Connecticut branch in a Ms. genealogy of his branch compiled in 1849 for Benjamin F. Thompson, states that their ancestor Benedict, who emigrated to Connecticut about 1680 from the vicinity of Exeter, Devonshire England, was a son of William Satterly who may have been the William that settled on Long Island, as he suggests. Although this supposition has not been proved, I think it is correct as there seems to be considerable difference in the ages of William and Benedict, but they could very well be father and son. If so, Benedict came to this country at a later period than William. Whatever the exact relation between the progenitors of the two branches may be, it is very probable that they belonged to the same family, as this opinion has been held by the older generations of both branches who no doubt had evidences of this fact which we do not possess.

The Long Island family have preserved the old spelling Satterly, while those in New England spell it Satterlee.

WILLIAM<sup>2</sup> son of William<sup>1</sup> resided at Setauket and was also a prominent man in the town. It is related of him that he owned property on the south side of the island and while there, fell by accident into the Great South Bay. He was rescued by an Indian woman to whom he gave a Dutch blanket every year during the balance of his life, in gratitude for saving his life.

The compiler has in his possession an inventory of William Satterly's estate taken Jan. 10, 1729, seven years after his death.

The document is witnessed by Richard Woodhull and Samuel Thompson and shows that he possessed a considerable estate. Elizabeth Satterly is named as executrix and there is some doubt as to her relation to the deceased. She may have been a third wife or one of the four daughters. He was b. Dec. 22, 1660 md. Mary d. of the said John Moger and d. April 22, 1722 aged 62. He was buried in the Presbyterian Churchyard at Setauket and his tombstone is still standing. By his wife he had William,<sup>3</sup> Nathaniel,<sup>3</sup> Arthur,<sup>3</sup> Joseph,<sup>3</sup> John,<sup>3</sup> and four daughters. Of these, WILLIAM<sup>3</sup> b. †Col. Isaac Satterly<sup>6</sup> resided during his entire life at Setauket in a house still standing and at present occupied by Mrs. M. B. Jergenson who is a grand-daughter of Sophia Elizabeth Satterly,<sup>6</sup> Col. Satterly's daughter who md. her cousin Samuel L. Thompson. Col. Satterly was a man of much prominence in the town and during the War of 1812 was Captain of a company of Militia which was stationed at Sag Harbor. In 1824 he came into possession of the grist mill located on the stream running into Conscience Bay, in the western part of the village. This mill was built by John Wade under a grant from the town dated March 31, 1680. About one hundred years later Richard Woodhull was the owner. When the mill finally became the property of Col. Satterly, he released the town from its obligation to keep the dam in repair, which clause had been incorporated in the grant to Wade in 1680. Until recent times, the mill was in possession of Col. Satterly and his descendants. It is still in operation.

‡John Roe Satterly<sup>6</sup> or General John R. Satterly as he was familiarly known, son of Col. Isaac Satterly,<sup>5</sup> also lived throughout his life at Setauket where his residence is still standing, just east of the Post Office. Micah Hawkins was a musical genius and could perform creditably upon the piano, flute or violin. He composed many songs and musical pieces which were published and proved to be popular. Several copies of the original editions of these publications are still in possession of members of the family. He is best known however, as the author and composer of the first original American Opera, entitled "The Saw Mill," which had a satisfactory run at Henry Wallack's Chatham Theatre in New York City, during 1824. Besides his musical activities Micah Hawkins kept a grocery store in Catharine St. New York, in which was installed a piano and he was wont to regale his customers with a little music when they visited his shop.

He was a pleasant conversationalist, possessed a ready vein of wit and withal a good singer. It especially pleased him to sing his own songs which he did with great gusto. His portrait painted by Louis Child and retouched by his nephew William S. Mount, hangs in the Hawkins-Mount house at Stony Brook L. I. where he was born. It is said of him that he always wore a white cravat, which fact is attested by the portrait. Micah Hawkins was a close friend of Benjamin F. Thompson, the historian, who did much to encourage him in his musical efforts. For a further account of this interesting individual see Oscar Wegelin's "Micah Hawkins and The Saw Mill."

Of the printed edition of the "Saw Mill" only two copies are known to be in existence today, one belonging to Brown University and the other in the hands of a private collector. The book is therefore much sought after by collectors of Americana, particularly those interested in early drama.

* William S. Mount ranks high among American artists and his work today is much sought after. Probably no one will ever be his equal in depicting the happy side of American country life. His "Power of Music" and "Farmer's Nooning" are famous and in their engraved form have gone into many a home throughout our land. The scenes of most of his pictures are laid on Long Island, many of them near his home at Stony Brook. He lived during a considerable portion of his life in the Hawkins homestead at Stony Brook. He was in truth, Long Island's artist—but his fame knew no bounds. Space forbids a longer account of his genius but the inquiring reader is referred to "Historical Miscellanies Relating to Long Island" by the compiler of this genealogy, where a more extended account of his life and work may be found. His brothers Henry S. and Shepard A. Mount were also artists of considerable ability. Shepard A. Mount's portraits especially, take high rank.

Edward Hawkins<sup>5</sup> lived at Setauket and was a respected resident of that place.

DANIEL SHALER HAWKINS<sup>6</sup> commonly called "Capt. Shaler" was born at Setauket, Nov. 24th 1798 and in early life followed the sea. He was captain of a packet running from Stony Brook to New York which was one of the chief means of communication between these two points before the advent of the railroad. Later on he retired to his farm at Stony Brook where he died in 1868.

GEORGE<sup>7</sup> the eldest son of Daniel Shaler,<sup>6</sup> in early life was a seafaring man. He later became engaged in the hotel business and subsequently became a miller. He died in Patchogue in 1893 at the age of three-score and ten.

CAPT. EBENEZER HAWKINS<sup>7</sup> was born at Stony Brook, January 9, 1825 and was engaged in the coasting trade during early life. Later on with his brothers Simeon S.<sup>7</sup> Edward<sup>7</sup> and Jedediah<sup>7</sup> he engaged in the fish oil and fertilizer business with plants at Shelter Island, Connecticut and Barren Island. This firm grew to be the largest in the business. In 1888 Capt. Hawkins retired and took up his residence at South Jamesport. He married Mary L. Albertson, Jan. 21, 1847 and had Simeon S.<sup>8</sup> a farmer; Mary F.<sup>8</sup> and Ada<sup>8</sup> who died young; Susan J.,<sup>8</sup> wife of Nathaniel Tuttle of Suffolk County; Robert<sup>8</sup> a farmer of Riverhead; Arthur W.<sup>8</sup> who removed to Brooklyn; Oliver A.<sup>8</sup> a merchant at Jamesport; and Henry<sup>8</sup> who died in infancy. Capt. Hawkin's<sup>7</sup> wife died Aug. 7, 1892.

Oliver A. Hawkins<sup>8</sup> was born at South Jamesport, July 20, 1868 and engaged in the mercantile business at Jamesport, forming a partnership with his brother Arthur W.<sup>8</sup> who later sold out to Oliver A. On Oct. 16, 1894 he married Daisy Broadfield of San Francisco and had Jerome Broadfield<sup>9</sup> born Aug. 18, 1895.

SIMEON S. HAWKINS<sup>7</sup> was born at Stony Brook, March 30, 1827 and followed the sea in early life. When only twenty years of age he was captain of the schooner "Charles D. Hallock." In 1868 he removed to Jamesport and later on became associated with his brothers in the fish oil and fertilizer business. In 1866 he was County Superintendent of the Poor and in 1870 was elected Supervisor of Riverhead Town, defeating his brother Edward<sup>7</sup> who ran on the Democratic ticket. He was a member of the State Assembly in 1884-85 and State Senator during 1888-89. On Oct. 6, 1852 Capt. Hawkins married Buelah Elma Youngs of Jamesport daughter of Albert Youngs and had Ebenezer;<sup>8</sup> Florence S<sup>8</sup> wife of John E. Overton of Port Jefferson; Albert Etheridge<sup>8</sup> a farmer at Riverhead; and Myron Daniel<sup>8</sup> employed in the Riverhead Savings Bank. Capt. Hawkins home was at Jamesport.

EDWARD HAWKINS<sup>7</sup> was born January 21, 1829 at Stony Brook and was a seafaring man until the close of the Civil War when he retired to his farm near Jamesport. Edward was a Democrat and his brother Simeon S., a Republican. Twice they opposed each other for the same office, first in 1870 when Simeon was elected Supervisor of Riverhead and second in 1889 when Edward was successful in being elected State Senator. In 1855 he married Susan C., daughter of Israel Smith of Lake Grove and they had Edward<sup>8</sup> a farmer; Inez<sup>8</sup> wife of Joseph M. Belford; Una<sup>8</sup> wife of Edward H. Albertson of Riverhead; Rosa<sup>8</sup> and Anna.<sup>8</sup> Edward Hawkins<sup>8</sup> was born Jan. 16, 1861 and on Jan. 20, 1885 married Priscilla, daughter of Capt. John Smith of

New York. They had Priscilla<sup>9</sup> born Dec. 15, 1886 and Edward S.<sup>9</sup> who died when three years old.

JEDEDIAH W.<sup>7</sup> like his brothers first followed the sea and then became associated with them in the fishery business. He resided at Jamesport. He married Emily T. Warner and had Jennie L.<sup>8</sup> wife of John T. Terrill of Riverhead and Walter E.,<sup>8</sup> who was born at Jamesport, May 15, 1863. Walter E. Hawkins<sup>8</sup> followed the sea in early life and afterwards took up farming. On April 15, 1885 he married Irene M. Barnes.

ARTHUR SMITH

There are six distinct Smith families on Long Island viz: Weight Smiths, Rock Smiths, Blue Smiths, Tangier Smiths, Bull Smiths and Arthur Smiths. They received their distinguishing prefixes through some circumstance or peculiarity connected with the early generations of the respective families. Thus the Weight Smiths possessed the only set of scales and weights in their locality; the Rock Smith's progenitor was known as Rock John to differentiate him from other John Smiths residing at Stamford Conn. from whence he removed to Long Island; the ancestor of the Blue Smiths always wore a blue coat which he was exceeding proud of and never lost a chance of exhibiting; the Tangier Smiths are descended from Col. William Smith, mayor of the city of Tangier, Africa, then a British colony, where he resided before coming to America; the Bull Smiths take their name from the habit which their ancestor Major Richard Smith had of riding a bull instead of a horse and lastly the Arthur Smiths are descendants of Arthur Smith one of the original proprietors of Brookhaven Town in Suffolk County. The Weight, Rock and Blue Smiths are found mostly in Queens and Nassau Counties, while the Tangier, Bull and Arthur varieties are native to Suffolk County.

Having thus mentioned the several divisions, we can now look to the following genealogy of the Arthur Smith family about which less has been written than any other Smith clan, theréfor all the more interesting to the student. Always bear in mind that the ancestors of these families were not related in any way, shape or form. Frequent intermarriages have taken place between the families however. The Arthur Smith family is fully as ancient as the others.

MILLS

This genealogy relates to the Suffolk County branch of the family, descendants of TIMOTHY MILLS who settled at Smithtown in 1693. The other branch remained at Jamaica. Members of both branches were fairly numerous during the 18th and first half of the 19th centuries, but are now greatly reduced.

Among the early settlers of Jamaica L. I. was GEORGE MILLS<sup>1</sup> born in 1585 and died aged 89, Oct. 17, 1674 at Jamaica. He was probably a descendant of John Mills who was made freeman of Boston in 1632. Children were Samuel<sup>2</sup> and Nathaniel<sup>2</sup> who d. Nov. 4, 1728.

SAMUEL MILLS<sup>2</sup> was born in 1631, md. in 1658 and was reputed to have had 16 children. He died at Jamaica March 9, 1726. aged 95. Among his children was Timothy.<sup>3</sup>

TIMOTHY MILLS<sup>3</sup> (Samuel<sup>2</sup>) born at Jamaica in 1667, was the progenitor of the Suffolk Co. Mills and moved to that part of Smithtown since called Mills Pond in 1693. He died March 30th 1751 aged 84. His will bears date of March 16, 1741. He married first Elizabeth, family name unknown and secondly Sarah Longbotham.

The settlement of Mills Pond is a collection of dignified old houses surrounding a small pond situated on the North Country road about four miles east of the village of Smithtown Branch. It lies within the town of Smithtown and has always been the residence of one or more members of the family since the days of Timothy Mills the common ancestor. Mr. Dubois Smith, a grandson of William Wickham Mills, is the present owner of the Pond and the Mills homestead.

Being placed of course on the invalid pension roll of the army, he received thereafter during his life an annuity of from $50 to $100. John Gile was installed as his colleague. He continued however to preach and perform other ministerial duties occasionally for several years after. His death took place at the age of 98 years, 5 months and 10 days on June 21, 1858. For a further account of Rev. The first of these is the fact that the United States is a young country, and that its history is still in the making.

The second is the fact that the United States is a large country, and that its history is still in the making.

The third is the fact that the United States is a free country, and that its history is still in the making.

The fourth is the fact that the United States is a democratic country, and that its history is still in the making.

The fifth is the fact that the United States is a powerful country, and that its history is still in the making.

RECORD OF MY LIFE AND OF THE GREENE FAMILY

COMPILED BY

REV. ZACHARIAH GREENE

At Hempstead, L. I.

April, 1851

The following is an account of my paternal ancestors—collected from the records of the town of Woburn, Middlesex Co., Mass., and other reliable sources. Extracts were sent me by Nathan Weyman Esq., town clerk of Woburn.

William Greene was one of the first settlers of Woburn in 1642; and one of the original subscribers to the "Town Orders" agreed upon at Charlestown in 1640. William and John brothers, were born in London. In the time of persecution they left their native city and went to Hamburg. John married Perseverance Johnston. When he came to this country he brought with him his wife and three children and settled in Charlestown, Mass. William married Hannah Richardson at what time is not now known. His son William married Hannah Kendall whose family came from Devonshire, England. John, Obadiah and James were members of the first church in Woburn. Dea. Thomas Kendall died at South Reading, Mass., in 1682.

William Greene, last mentioned had 10 children, viz: William born Sept. 9, 1675; Frances Dec. 3, 1678; Ebenezer July, 1680; Mehitable June 30, 1682; Hannah, Oct. 7, 1684; Mary, Nov. 13, 1686; Samuel, July 8, 1689; Jacob, Oct. 1691; Joseph, April 14, 1694; and Abigail, 1699.

Jacob Greene was my grandfather. He married Elizabeth Cranch who was of the family of Cranches in Devonshire, England. He died in my father's house, at Hanover, Grafton Co., N. H., Dec. 16, 1790, aged 99. His children, 7 in number, were: Elizabeth, Jacob, Samuel, Mary, Abigail, David, and Benjamin.

Samuel Greene was my father. He was born in Sunbury, Worcester Co., Mass., March 1, 1723; and died at Hanover, N. H., Aug. 21, 1807 aged 84. My mother's name was Jane White. She was the daughter of Robert and Jane White who emigrated from the city of Dublin, and were among the first settlers of the town of Stafford, Hartford Co., Conn. She was born April 6, 1731; and died May 30, 1813, at Hanover N. H. aged 82. They had thirteen children—6 sons and 7 daughters—all of whom married and had families except Mary and Ebenezer.

Zachariah Greene, myself, was the fourth son, born Jan. 11, 1760 in Stafford, Hartford Co., (now Tolland Co.) Conn. I served three years in the Revolutionary War from Jan. 1776, to Jan. 1779; during which time I was engaged in three severe battles viz: Throgg's Point, White Plains, and White Marsh northwest of Philadelphia. It was in the battle of White Marsh that I was wounded Dec. 7, 1777. A notice of me may be found in "Thompson's History of Long Island."

My first wife Sarah Fleet daughter of Simon and Ann Fleet, was born at Huntington, Suffolk Co., L. I., May 11, 1767. Her father was born Sept. 17, 1723; and died Aug. 30, 1790. Her mother whose maiden name was Bryant was born April 8, 1724; the time of her death not known. Both were natives of Huntington L. I.

We were married June 28, 1786 by the Rev. Nathan Woodhull of Huntington L. I. I was ordained and installed pastor of the Fourth Church in Southold, Suffolk Co. L. I. June 28, 1787.

My children by my first wife (4) were:

Lewis Fleet born June 2, 1787, died Feb. 20, 1853.

Sally Fleet born Sept. 7, 1788.

Samuel White born Nov. 27, 1789 died Oct. 10, 1790.

Samuel White born April 22, 1790.

My second wife was Abigail Howard, daughter of William and Mary Howard.

Her mother was the sister of the late Judge Benjamin Coe. She was born July 3, 1765 at Newtown, Queens Co., L. I. We were married by the Rev. Nathan Woodhull who had removed from Huntington to Newtown, Sept. 14, 1793. My children by my second wife were:

Mary Howard born Oct. 5, 1794.

Herman Dagget born May 31, 1796.

Abigail White, born Dec. 20, 1798 died Oct. 16, 1855.

William Howard born Nov. 23, 1800.

Susan Howard born Nov. 15, 1803 died Feb. 18, 1826.

My first wife died Dec. 2, 1791.

My second wife died April 16, 1849.

Lewis Fleet Greene married Charity, daughter of William and Elizabeth Woodhull of Brookhaven, Suffolk Co. L. I. Feb. 9, 1809.

Sally Fleet Greene married Capt. Charles Jayne son of William Jayne Esq., and wife Mary both of Brookhaven, Suffolk Co. L. I. on the 21st of Feb. 1809.

Mary Howard Greene married June 10, 1810, Dr. Benjamin Franklin Thompson son of Dr. Samuel and Phoebe Thompson, Brookhaven.

Herman Dagget Greene married March 22, 1820, Harriet Maria Carpenter of the city of Savannah, Georgia. She was an orphan lady whose father was drowned on his passage to Dublin. Herman died in Savannah Oct. 23, 1827, leaving a widow and three daughters, Sarah Jayne, Susan Eliza and Margaret Hart. Two months and sixteen days after his father's decease, Jan. 3, 1828, a son was born and named Herman Dagget. This son died suddenly in his 18th year—a youth of much promise.

Susan Howard Greene married, Feb. 22, 1825, John Gilbert Fleet, son of Rennselaer and Sarah Fleet of Southold, L. I. She died at Jamaica L. I. Feb. 18, 1826, leaving a son born Jan. 14, 1826 named Augustin who died at my house, Aug. 5, 1826.

Samuel White Greene chose a seafaring life; and served an apprenticeship with Capt. Richard Pendergrast of New York. When 20 years old, he was Master of a Brig; and was twice captured by the French in the last war with England. The last reliable account of him was given us by Howel Hart son of Rev. Joshua Hart, who sailed with him several voyages to the great Oronoko river on the Spanish Main; and there finally left him in the month of June 1831. Never heard of since.

William Howard Greene left home Oct. 1821, on a visit to Savannah, returning next June. He ultimately decided to settle in that city, and accordingly sailed thither Oct. 1822. Subsequently, he was clerk of a steamboat which went to Charleston S. C. for repairs. While there he was taken sick and on the second or third day he was removed to the house of Capt. Lubbock where he was attended by Dr. North till he died Aug. 14, 1828. He was interred in the churchyard of the Second Presbyterian Church called "Flynn's Church;" and a monument placed at his grave.

I was dismissed from my charge over the Fourth Church in Southold, (called Cutchogue) Sept. 9, 1797; and installed pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Brookhaven (called Setauket) on the 27th day of the same month.

I still settled at a great distance from my father's family, and had little knowledge of the race after I entered the Revolutionary Army; and I neglected looking after them till old age overtook me: then I began the pleasing though difficult task. To accomplish this I wrote to the Town Clerk of Woburn; also to Mr. Nathaniel R. Greene of Newport R. I., son of Maj. Genl. Nathaniel Greene. And at length being furnished with extracts from the records of the towns of Woburn and Warwick—and information also from other authentic sources—I have written this account of our family.

Thompson's History does not furnish the maiden names of the wives of the two William Greenes: the first was Hannah Richardson—the second was Hannah Kendall. They and the Cranch family came from Devonshire, England.

My father moved from Stafford, Conn. to Brookfield, Worcester Co., Mass., 1773. From thence to Hanover, Grafton Co., N. H., 1782.

The husband of my daughter Sally Fleet, Capt. Charles Jayne, died on his passage from old Mexico to New Orleans, May 1832.* His widow married Samuel Vail Esq., of Sharonville in Reading, Hamilton Co. Ohio, May 15th 1834.

I was with the men who erected the Fort on Dorchester Neck; and the cannon mounted there drove the British army from the town of Boston. I also made one of the party which entered Boston next day, after the departure of the British vandals who had well earned this title by their brutish conduct.

My grandfather settled in Sunbury, Worcester Co., Mass., where my father was born; and I think Jacob, Elizabeth and Mary also. Thence he moved to Colchester Conn. where his other children David, Abigail, and Benjamin, I believe were born. His first wife died in Stafford time unknown.

My father served in what is called the "the old French war" against Canada. He was a volunteer when the British took New York—and a volunteer also when Burgoyne with his army were captured. His two sons also served, one 3 years, and the other 4 years; so that his posterity have a good title to the free institutions of the United States.

I will add the names of my brothers and sisters—12 of whom were born in Stafford Conn; Ebenezer W. in Brookfield Mass.

John Spencer, b. July 29, 1773; d. —.

Ebenezer was lost in a gale of wind at sea, off the Cape of Good Hope bound to Canton. Joseph was drowned in Long Island Sound. He sailed from New Haven Conn. in a two mast boat with the owner and master, Mr. James Skinner, to pay me a visit at Setauket. The wind was blowing a gale and the boat foundered near Setauket Harbor, when both were lost! This same brother was with me, when the British landed at Throgg's Point; and with me also in the battles of White Plains and White Marsh.*

In the battle of White Marsh, we were both wounded within a few minutes of each other; and both in the left shoulder. His wound did not injure the bone; but mine fractured the scapula and clavicle, weakening and injuring the use of the arm. This occurred Dec. 7, 1777. Our wounds were dressed by candle light in one of General Washington's rooms, which he had opened to accommodate the wounded. We then took our lodgings for the night, in a horse shed, with some buckwheat straw for our bed, and without even a blanket to cover us. It was a long and painful night! My garments were saturated with blood; and the severe fatigue of the battle, the loss of blood, with the chill of the cold night air, subjected me to distressing cramps in my breast and limbs. Early in the morning, Gen. Greene stopped before the shed and kindly said, that in three hours, he would send his boy to inform us where he had obtained a room for us. He did so, having obtained one in the house of Mr. Denahousyn in White Marsh. Here we were treated with kindness by the family; and some of the daughters dressed our wounds for three weeks. But the bones were so shattered and the flesh so badly mangled, that there could be no relief for me, till after a good surgical operation.

At the end of three weeks, we were removed to Reading, for the benefit of the Hospital; though the Yellow fever was among its inmates. There we hired a room; and there chanced to be a Surgeon of a British Regiment, then on parole in the village, by the name of Robinson, whom we engaged to perform the operation of removing the dead flesh and sawing and taking away the fractured bones. It was very painful, but necessary to a cure.

When I first called this British Surgeon, he asked me, "Will you trust an enemy?" I replied, "I will trust a gentleman." When I came to settle with him, he said, "While a prisoner; as I am,

*The British Army were robbing the inhabitants of White Marsh of their horses, cows, bedding, grain and whatever they could lay hands on.

I am not allowed to take any pay." But this I managed to his satisfaction—so that John Bull was never the wiser or richer for the compensation I cheerfully made him, for his very valuable services.

In this same battle, my brother had eleven ball holes in his outside garment. He was in the battle at Monmouth—and with Wayne, at the taking by storm of Stony Point.

I was admitted to the Dartmouth College Church, under the pastoral charge of the Rev. Sylvanus Ripley, D. D., with 49 others, in the winter of 1782. Fourteen of this number became clergymen; of whom none are now living except myself, now in the 92nd year of my age.

The first part of the paper
 deals with the general
 principles of the theory and the methods of calculation. It is divided into two sections: the first section deals with the general principles and the second section
 deals with the methods of calculation. The first section is divided into two parts: the first part
 deals with the general principles and the second part deals with the methods of calculation. The second section is divided into two parts: the first part
 deals with the methods of calculation and the second part
 deals with the
 applications of the theory. The first

The second part of the paper deals with the applications of the theory. It is divided into two sections: the first section deals with the applications of the theory to the study of the properties of the system and the second section
 deals with the
 applications of the theory to the study of the properties of the
